THE STORY

David Hidalgo and Louie Pérez started writing songs together when they were in high school, long before they ever became members Los Lobos. As the main songwriters in one of the world's most solid and long-lasting roots-rock enclaves, they've accumulated an outstanding collection of tunes. But Pérez and Hidalgo had never offered fans a chance to hear those songs in their purest, elemental form. Until now.

The Long Goodbye is a collection of previously unreleased recordings celebrating 40 years of songwriting by David Hidalgo and Louie Pérez.
